Summary

I'm a senior level front-end web developer with over 5 years experience in the field. Proficient in JavaScript, AS3, CSS(3), and HTML(5) with a background in design, animation, and 3D.

Objective

To work with a creative and dedicated team of individuals building highly functional websites and applications with a focus on good design and user experience.

Experience

Senior Front-End Developer

Pathbrite March 2013 - December 2013 www.pathbrite.com

Pathbrite is a large scale learning management system that allows for course creation, student assignment grading, and e-portfolio creation & sharing. During my time as a contractor here I was responsible for developing several new course and enterprise level features as well as improving and restructuring older features.

Senior Interactive Developer

Luxurious Animals July 2008 - March 2013 www.luxanimals.com

I started my career as the first employee of the agency as an interactive designer. I've engineered custom solutions under tight deadlines (individually and in small teams) for websites, games, web apps, and banner ads for clients including HBO, TNT, and Panera Bread among others. I also completed internal projects such as developing and managing the company website.

Design Intern

Big Spaceship June 2007 - September 2007

Worked on design and animations for various projects alongside the team.

Freelance Design & Development

Various Clients June 2006 - August 2008

Completed design, development, and animation work for various clients.
